Ye Lost Art of Ballooning

Back in the days
of the Avatar's Quest, rumors spread of a
strange sight in the skies. A
tinker from the town of Minoc,
claimed to have
rediscovered the lost art of ballooning.
According to ancient lore, this was a mystical
practice that allowed one to soar through the air, higher than the birds themselves. No records have been found of the rituals used to
perform this feat,
but several
farmers from the area still tell
tales of strange
sights. A strange
sphere was seen,
way up in the sky, and the
voices of men
could be heard
drifting down from it. The apparition drifted
up into the clouds
and was lost to sight. This took place years ago,
and naught has
been heard of the mystic art of

ballooning since that time.
